

Certified ScrumMaster Training

No matter what your background or industry is, SolutionsIQ Certified ScrumMaster training is a great way to get a strong start in Scrum. Even experienced Agile practitioners will benefit from the highly experiential simulations and “big picture” perspective provided by SolutionsIQ Scrum trainers, who are thought leaders in the Agile community and certified by the Scrum Alliance.

Scrum training benefits everyone on the team and gives them tools they can immediately use to accelerate team-building while they master the art and science of incremental delivery. You will discover the essential roles and practices that define Scrum and are used by thousands of successful Agile teams throughout the world, and you’ll become versed in the practical steps you can take to form a high-performance team and how to successfully avoid the pitfalls that new Agile teams often encounter.
